

public meetings or conferences, are treated with respect, with dignity, and, above all, in a manner that does NOT encroach on their exercise of all the freedoms guaranteed by the Bill of Rights. Presuppositions, prejudices, prejudgments, and unsubstantiated beliefs as to the possible conduct of U.S. citizens at public meetings cannot serve as the basis for actions by public employees regarding U.S. citizens and taxpayers.

To conclude, I wish to state that I stand here willing and able to assist the Los Angeles County Board of Education address the issues raised in this presentation in any way I can. I would respectfully like to request a written response to the issues raised here, and to the questions which I turned in in-writing at the Conference.
